The Domaine de Méjanes is the ideal place to organise your private or formal event. There is a large option of indoors and outdoors spaces able to receive small groups in an intimate atmosphere as well as larger conferences or even huge prestigious parties with thousands of guests.

A place for events in movie-like surroundings

Paul Ricard's Lucky Star

Located in the heart of the Camargue, the Domaine de Méjanes knows how to combine the respect of a mythical and unique location to its visitors' accessibility. The Camargue is a land surrounded with wide open spaces, one of the last remaining natural havens, where horses and bulls live freely amongst thousands of migratory and sedentary birds. A paradise that I was gifted fifty years ago by my father who re-wrote the destiny of this thousand years old Domain.

Michele Ricard
Landlady of the Domaine de Méjanes

Today, it is my turn to write a new page of Méjanes's History. I am inviting you to travel through the movie-like landscapes of my Domain on board of the Méjanes Little Train. Discover the daily life of the professional and passionate gardians that regularly present horses and bulls shows. The tourism based around nature, with the availability of hybrid road bicycles, offers cycling tracks filled with unexpected encounters, horse and pony rides. The possibility to sleep in our roulettes or a location filled with history. Two restaurants offering their typical cuisine to taste, a shop with local products, function rooms to rent and the Musée Paul Ricard.

If Paul Ricard's dearest wish was to make people happy, it is also mine and one of the entire team working in Méjanes.

Enter the Legend

Over thousands of years, powerful archbishops, counts and courtesses, Knights Templar, marquis and manufacturers succeeded one another on the Domain of Méjanes until Paul Ricard's arrival in 1939. In 1940, alcohol is prohibited. The great French manufacturer and humanist has some of his associates move to Méjanes. They become farmers and builders to transform the Domain into a self-sufficient farming land where they'll live. Once the war is over, Paul Ricard develops and promotes the rice productions of the Camargue and its traditions to the entire world.

He creates the Ricard Manade, the restaurants, the accommodations, the arenas, and open Méjanes to the public. The great figures of the arts, cultures and politics such as Pablo Picasso, Lucien Clergue, Louis Mariano, Johnny Hallyday, Tino Rossi, Fernandel and many more, fall in love with the Domain and its history. Paul Ricard who is also a movie producer, organises in Méjanes the shooting of documentaries and important movies like "La Caraque Blonde" and "La loi de la poudre".
